

AP Course Skills & Practices Morning Session

Christopher Budano

Christopher Budano, Ph.D. is an Assistant Professor in the department of Teaching, Learning, and Educational Leadership at Eastern Kentucky University. He teaches courses in educational foundations, qualitative methods, and Social Studies methods, and he advises students in the MAT program. Prior to joining the ECU faculty, Dr. Budano served as the Assistant Superintendent for Teaching and Learning at ECU's Model Laboratory School, working with faculty and staff on curriculum and professional development. He also served as the Director of Counseling and Advising at Model. In addition to his administrative duties at Model, Dr. Budano taught a class in the secondary school each year he was at Model. Over the years, he taught AP Seminar, AP Research, and AP World History. He continues to teach AP World History at Model. Before moving to Kentucky, Dr. Budano lived in New York and worked for the AP program at the College Board. He began his career in education teaching high school social studies in Maryland. Dr. Budano earned his Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of Maryland, his MEd in Secondary Education from the University of Pennsylvania, and his bachelor's degree in History and Philosophy from the University of Scranton.

Course Description

This workshop will provide an overview of the intersection of skills that cross the 38 AP courses and exams and will address the skills critical for college and career success. This workshop will help all high school teachers (those teaching AP and those not teaching AP) understand how to build skill development within and across the curriculum. It will not only address baseline skills. It will also show participants how the skills increase in complexity and offer strategies to address those more complex skills. Specific topics include: § Teaching for understanding and transfer. § Applying critical reasoning and thinking processes. § Importance of practice and formative assessments. § Using AP resources to enhance instruction..

Date and Time

:February 7, 2024
8:30-11:30AM

Where

This is a virtual event. Links will be provided to registrants in the days leading up to the workshop.

Register at the link below

Register here

