

Angela Dorman

Mrs. Angela Dorman earned her B.A. from Livingstone College in Salisbury, North Carolina, and her M. Ed from Texas A&M in Commerce, Texas. She taught English grades 9-12 (including honors and humanities classes) for the Department of Defense in Ansbach, Germany for 6 years. She taught AP® English Language and On-level English classes at Skyline High School in Dallas, Texas for 13 years. Angela was promoted to the position of AP English Lead teacher with Dallas Public Schools. She was in that position for 13 years servicing over 25 secondary schools in the district. After leaving Dallas, Angela became the Advanced Academic Specialist at West Mesquite High School where she taught English III AP, supervised AP English teachers, and led the College and Career Readiness Department. Mrs. Dorman was a member of the AP English Language Test Development Committee. She is also an AP Language Reader. Currently, Mrs. Dorman teaches English at Dallas College in Dallas, Texas.