

Frank Masel

Frank Masel has been involved with the AP Spanish Language and Culture program for over 14 years. His experience ranges from teaching at the High School level to participating in the annual AP Reading as a Table Leader to co-authoring the AP Spanish Textbook, Triángulo Apreciado. His objective has been, and continues to be, helping others understand and prepare for the course while intensifying their love of the Spanish language. He lives in Baltimore, Maryland and is a proud husband and father.
